

NEWS RELEASE

The Best of Saskatchewan Fine Craft unveiled this Saturday

Discover this year's Dimensions entries selected for the Saskatchewan Craft Council's 31st open, juried touring exhibition of Fine Craft. Choosing 35 pieces from the 180 entries, submitted by 106 artists, is a challenge for the jurors.

Dimensions Charge to the Jurors asks them:

"to choose the best among all eligible entries. For our Dimensions exhibition, the SCC looks for works with unique, individual expression that transcend technique. They should have content as well as achieving technical and creative excellence."

The Dimensions Juror's Critique gives you a glimpse into the thought processes and decision making of this year's two jurors: Tom McFall and June J. Jacobs. McFall has been the Executive Director of the Alberta Craft Council for over 15 years, one of Canada's largest and most productive craft organizations and has expanded awareness of Alberta's professional craftspeople. Well known textile artist Jacobs has exhibited locally, nationally and internationally. She has been the owner/operator of The Hand Wave Gallery in Meacham, SK for over 29 years.

Are up to the challenge? Drop by Market Mall today and "Choose your own Dimensions Exhibition". Learn more about our jurors. Attend the Jurors' Talk this evening. Ready for the big reveal? See you Saturday.

All Dimensions Public Events take place at Market Mall, 2325 Preston Avenue, Saskatoon, the storefront between Sangster's and the Administration Office.
